Make it easy for your guests to donate

Online

If your Dine at Mine event is a celebration (perhaps a birthday or anniversary), you may want to create your own fundraising page at www.justgiving.com. It is easy to do and will enable your guests to donate online before, after or even during your event. You can then watch your total go up as your dinner goes down!

Cash and cheques

You can collect cash or cheques (made payable to Trinity Hospice) on the night. Please post cheques to Trinity Hospice.

Gift Aid envelopes

Your pack will include Gift Aid envelopes to collect donations on the night.

If you have any questions or if you would like to discuss your ideas, please don't hesitate to get in touch.

What's in the pack?

We've created some materials to take the strain out of organising your event and to help spread the word about the important services Trinity provides to our local community. Your pack includes:

- invitations
- place cards including prize draw form
- letterhead
- menu card

Ideas and tips

Once you've decided what to do and who to invite, these ideas will help you to fundraise. You could:

- Ask your friends to donate what they think the meal would have cost them in a restaurant.
- Ask for a fixed donation – this could be anything from £25 to £250 or a donation of their choice.
- Hold a small auction – have you got a nice bottle of wine you can spare or could you get corporate event tickets through work?
- Run your own prize draw with a few special items you are willing to part with, or that friends or local organisations might donate.
- Don't forget to ask your guests to join the Dine at Mine challenge and host their own event to keep the fundraising momentum going!

You will find more ideas, tips and materials to download on our website www.trinityhospice.org.uk/dine-at-mine

Remember that every donation helps, no matter how big or how small. It costs nearly £8 million each year to provide the free services that Trinity offers to the community, so any amount of money raised can make a big difference.
